Author Bios

One Sentence:

Megan Bledsoe writes stories with a touch of fantasy, from dark to light, including Girl, Incorrupted, The Metanaut, and the Corbin Kohl In Hell series.

One Paragraph:

Megan Bledsoe takes inspiration from the world's unexplained but still undeniable phenomena and writes books with a touch of fantasy, from dark to light, to keep you up all night. She writes in the Pacific Northwest, where she lives with her family. She is the author of Girl, Incorrupted, The Metanaut, and the Corbin Kohl In Hell series. #### Long Version:

Megan Bledsoe writes stories with a touch of fantasy, from dark to light, using fantastical elements as metaphors to add layers of depth. Inspired by a childhood diet of R.L. Stine, Christopher Pike, and L.J. Smith—and, later, Stephen King and Anne Rice—she crafts novels that take on the world's unexplained but still undeniable phenomena to keep you up all night.

Megan is the author of Girl, Incorrupted, a love-horror hybrid with minimal heat and an emphasis on horror; The Metanaut, a supernatural thriller set in the California Redwoods; and the fun low-fantasy mystery series Corbin Kohl In Hell.

A native of Washington state, Megan graduated phi beta kappa from the University of Washington with a degree in philosophy and, later, a law degree. While in school, she backpacked through Europe and Egypt and lived in Washington, D.C., London, and Rome, gathering intriguing fodder for her stories. She is now settled in the Pacific Northwest, where she lives with her family.

When not writing or reading novels that blend fantasy and reality, Megan enjoys researching the world's mysteries and exploring places on foot. She loves dogs, especially pugs—heavy on the pugs—and she can usually be spotted walking the neighborhood with her pug, Winnie, on the lookout for hummingbirds and other small wonders.

Full Blurb

Scientist Anja Aura Copenhagen thinks that belief in the paranormal is absurd. She is the last person who should be summoned to the California Redwoods to resolve a so-called paranormal anomaly.

They're saying the anomaly is connected to strange events on a college campus and in maternity wards across the country—defying every law of nature Anja has ever known. But if true, it means the danger it poses is spreading.

But, really, how could it be true? And what do they expect Anja to do about it? There's no such thing as the paranormal.

Or is there?

For readers who love the scientific skepticism of Michael Crichton and the paranormal investigation of Fringe or The X-Files... How do you fight a force you don't believe in? Get the book and find out...

CORBIN KOHL IN HELL

Price: $7.99 (ebook)

Synopsis: Hang out with Corbin Kohl as he navigates his new life in a weird place that might be Hell except it's awfully fun.

Full Blurb

Corbin Kohl is in Hell.

At least, he thinks he is. With the scorching heat, the fiery Pit at the center of the City, and his new, unpaid gig for so-called "Management," it seems like a solid guess.

Corbin's first assignment involves a Victor, one of Management's most wanted. Unfortunately, the rascal has powerful abilities Management never bothered to mention. Pursuing him will demand more from Corbin than an average "Twister service" can set right.

Still, for a guy who just wants to get home again, this hellish assignment presents an opportunity. Management has secrets. But more importantly, it hides vulnerabilities. And Corbin's first assignment might provide a clue to getting out of this infernal place.

Then again, it's kinda fun here. And this might be the first time in years that Corbin has felt like himself.

Hang out with Corbin Kohl in a place that might be Hell, except it's awfully fun.

For fans of Jim Butcher's light-hearted side and those who would love a Stephanie Plum-style adventure in Hell, this book is for you. Grab your copy and join the fun!

Full Blurb

UFO SIGHTING IN HELL. Seriously.

Corbin Kohl thought he figured out the City. He acclimated to the heat. Made the fiery Pit his hangout spot. He even found the bright side of his unpaid gig with Management.

But the City just got weirder.

There's a UFO hovering in the sky. It looks harmless to Corbin, but it's got Management in a tizzy. They're secretive about it as usual. But his next assignment seems connected.

And—wait—did his boss just threaten his friends?!

Corbin Kohl is back in Corbin Kohl Baited In Hell!

Descend into this must-read low-fantasy mystery series and find out why Hell is actually kind of fun.

GIRL, INCORRUPTED

A Love-Horror Story

Price: $32.99 (hardcover); $16.99 (paperback); $8.99 (ebook)

Synopsis: While trying to become the kind of girl her boyfriend says he'd marry, college senior Daphne James entangles herself with the local vaudeville star, an incorrupt corpse.

Full Blurb

Daphne James has a plan: get her boyfriend to propose. But on the night she expects it to happen, he jokes about marrying a local vaudeville star.

They say L'Aornum Theatre's headliner is beautiful, talented, mysterious—everything Daphne isn't. Just the thought of her triggers Daphne's insecurities. Daphne's determined to learn her secrets.

But the starlet has more secrets than Daphne can fathom: She's an incorrupt corpse. And she wants Daphne to become a part of her plan.

WARNING: This isn't a love story. It's a love-HORROR story. Do not read this book if you're not ready to fully give in to a monster type you've never seen before. Tropes will be subverted, corpses will rot, and hearts will be broken. But don't let me deter you. Step right up, if you dare...

Interview Materials

Suggested Questions About New Books

1. Your two newest books, The Metanaut and Corbin Kohl In Hell, are releasing around the same time and showcase a wide range. What inspired you to write a sci-fi thriller and a fun low-fantasy mystery in parallel?
2. In The Metanaut, your main character is a scientist who doesn't believe in the paranormal. Why did you choose to explore the idea of science vs. the supernatural, and how do you think that skepticism affects the story?
3. Corbin Kohl In Hell is described as a "fun low-fantasy mystery series" and has a very different tone from your other books. What was it like to write a more light-hearted story, and what do you enjoy most about exploring a place like Hell in a new, humorous way?
4. How do you find a balance between the mystery, fantasy, and humor in the Corbin Kohl series?

Suggested Questions About the Writing Process and Themes

5. Your bio mentions a background in philosophy and law. How does that experience influence the stories you write and the way you build your characters and plots?
6. You've said your writing is inspired by "unexplained but undeniable phenomena." What are some real-world mysteries or urban legends that sparked the concepts for The Metanaut or Girl, Incorrupted?
7. Your books explore some unique fantastical elements, from an incorrupt corpse to the "anomaly" in the California Redwoods. Where do you find inspiration for these unique concepts?
8. The Pacific Northwest seems to play a significant role in your life and your stories. How does living in that environment influence your writing?

Suggested Questions About Career and Life

9. You've now written in a wide range of genres, from love-horror to supernatural thriller to low-fantasy mystery. What do you enjoy most about moving between such different tones and genres, and do you have a favorite?

10. You have a new book publisher, Arched Brow Books. Could you tell us about the decision to work with them and what that process has been like?
  11. When you're not writing, you're "doting on pugs." How does having a pug in your life influence your creativity or the themes of your books?
